

- you are a U.S. citizen or legal alien;
- you meet the asset requirements, which will be explained to you when the care coordinator comes to your home; and
- you apply for medical benefits.

Cost

If you meet the eligibility requirements and if your family income is below the federal poverty level, the State will pay the entire cost of service; you will not be charged a fee.

If your family income is above the federal poverty level, the State may still pay part of the cost of service. Your share of the cost will depend upon (1) your level of impairment, (2) the cost of care and (3) the number of people in your family who will receive Community Care Program services.

Community Care Program

...helping older adults
live independently

Are you wondering how to find the specific services that will help you or a loved one remain at home?

The Illinois Department on Aging would like you to know that help is offered through the Community Care Program (CCP). This program is designed to help you remain independent, in your own home, and keep you out of a nursing home, as long as nursing home placement is not necessary for you. There is an agency, called a Care Coordination Unit, in your community that is knowledgeable about available CCP services.

Care Coordination Unit

The Care Coordination Unit will send a care coordinator to your home at no cost to discuss your needs and goals, and to help you choose what services may be right for you. Services include In-Home Service, Adult Day Service, Emergency Home Response Service, Flexible Senior Services and, in some areas of the state, Senior Companion.

If you qualify for CCP services, the Care Coordination Unit will work with you to determine your needs, set up services that are appropriate for you and keep in touch with you to make sure the services continue to meet your needs.

In-Home Service

Home Care Aides provide in-home service, such as cleaning, planning and preparing meals, doing laundry, shopping and running errands. Home Care Aides may also assist moderately impaired participants with personal care tasks, such as dressing, bathing, grooming and following special diets.

Adult Day Service

Adult Day Service offers older adults the opportunity to interact with other people in a supervised setting outside their home. Adult Day Service centers offer a wide range of social activities. A noon meal is provided and participants may enjoy everything from arts and crafts to card games and current events classes. Some centers also offer counseling and physical therapy with trained professionals. Additionally, Adult Day Service centers can serve the needs of family members who may need respite from caregiving responsibilities so they may work outside the home during the day. In select Adult Day Service centers funded by the Illinois Department on Aging, specialized services are offered for individuals who suffer from Alzheimer's disease or related disorders.

Emergency Home Response Service

Emergency Home Response Service (EHRS) is defined as a 24-hour emergency communication link to assistance outside the client's home, based on health and safety needs and mobility limitations. This service is provided by a two-way voice communication system consisting of a base unit and an activation device worn by the client that will automatically link the client to a professionally staffed support center. The support center assesses the situation and directs an appropriate response whenever this system is engaged by a client. The purpose of providing EHRS is to improve the independence and safety of clients in their own homes in accordance with the authorized plan of care and thereby help reduce the need for nursing home care.

Flexible Senior Services

When a care coordinator conducts an assessment in your home, they may identify "unmet needs" to keep you safe and secure that may not be paid for by other sources like an insurance policy or benefits provided by Medicare. Limited funding is available through the Department's Flexible Senior Services demonstration program. Some examples of items or services purchased include minor household modifications and assistive devices.

Senior Companion

Senior Companions are volunteers who provide companionship and assistance when an older adult cannot be left alone for long periods of time. The service not only provides the person with a new friend of about the same age, but also provides respite for a caregiver.

Eligibility

You are eligible for Community Care Program services if:

- you are age 60 or older;
- you are determined physically in need of service, meaning you are at least moderately impaired;
- you are a resident of the state of Illinois;
